Greetings from the Publisher,

Thank you for your interest in the Townsend Letter. I founded this publication in 1983 when there were no journals or magazines discussing alternative medicine. Our focus was to create a forum for health professionals and non-professionals to discuss naturopathic medicine, functional medicine, orthomolecular medicine, nutrition, and related healing arts. In the years to follow academic journals and consumer magazines entered the marketplace but no other publication has served as a forum integrating doctors of multiple disciplines to examine what works and what does not work in alternative medicine.

With the advent of the internet, websites, and Google, the Townsend Letter has evolved from being only a print magazine to also publishing a digital magazine as well as a weekly e-newsletter. Our website serves to publish lengthy articles and references that were abridged in the print magazine, as well as articles that are only published on the web. For those wishing to explore our indexed archives, we do have all of our more than 470 past issues available. Our website offers readers a "Best Reads" section and blog.

In 2023 the Townsend Letter print magazine and digital magazine have ceased to be published. The Townsend Letter is now published only as a regular e-Letter. The Townsend Letter website features new articles and editorials published in the e-Letter. The Townsend e-Letter is emailed to 11,000+ subscribers in the U.S. and internationally.

Advertising opportunities are available in the e-Letter, on the website, and embedded with all new articles. We welcome your interest in advertising and thank you for your support of the Townsend Letter.
